Who we are

Being told 'you have cancer' can affect so much more than your health. Having the right kind of information and support at the right time is essential.

The Macmillan Cancer Information and Support Centre at Arrowe Park Hospital provides a free, confidential drop in service for anyone affected by cancer. This includes people who:

- require information about cancer
- have a cancer diagnosis
- are living with the consequences of a cancer diagnosis
- are living with and beyond cancer
- are looking to reduce the risks of cancer
- are a carer, relative or friend of someone with cancer
- are health and social care professionals
- are Wirral University Teaching Hospital staff.

How we can help

Staffed by a Macmillan Cancer Information and Support Manager, Adviser and volunteers, we are able to provide:

- literature on all aspects of living with cancer
- the opportunity to discuss treatments, side effects and other cancer related issues
- information and support over the phone and by email for those not able to access the service in person
- a comfortable area where you can talk to someone in confidence
- internet access to guide people to appropriate information resources.

We also offer

- links to the clinical teams treating cancer patients
- links to national, local and voluntary support services
- referral to other available support and advice services
- signposting to self-help and support groups
- cancer awareness and educational resources.
