Elizabeth Garrigan named Employee of the Month for Patient Care

Congratulations to Elizabeth Garrigan, Ward 36, who has been named Employee of the Month for Patient Care at Wirral University Teaching Hospital.

Elizabeth, a Practice Assessor, has been recognised following multiple nominations from student nurses who have completed placements on Ward 36. Students are invited to nominate assessors who go above and beyond in supporting them, and Elizabeth was nominated four times, reflecting the consistent impact she has on those she works with.

Students described Elizabeth as kind, knowledgeable and incredibly supportive. They shared how she helps them feel comfortable and confident from the outset, creating a positive and welcoming learning environment. She is known for her patience and encouragement, ensuring students are actively involved in learning opportunities that help build their skills and confidence.

Elizabeth also takes the time to check in with students, particularly when they are facing challenges, making sure they feel supported even when she is not directly on shift. Her commitment to their wellbeing, as well as their development, has left a lasting impression.

Alongside her support for students, Elizabeth was praised for the compassionate care she provides to patients and their families. Students highlighted how she leads by example, demonstrating professionalism, kindness and high standards of care, making her a brilliant role model for future nurses.

This recognition reflects the time, effort and dedication Elizabeth puts into supporting the next generation of the nursing workforce and ensuring their experience at WUTH is a positive and meaningful one.

A huge congratulations to Elizabeth on this well-deserved recognition and thank you for the difference you make every day.
